

Ramesh: Let's go to the hamburger restaurant.

Anil: Can we get vegetarian food there?

Ramesh: Yes, I think so!

Anil and Ramesh look at the menu
Raju, the waiter came and asked
"Are you ready to order?"

Anil: (Pointing to the menu)
can we get veggie burgers?

Raju: Yes we make veggie burger.

Anil: I would like a veggie burger.

Raju: (With surprise) Why don't you eat a burger with meat in it?

Anil: We are Jains and Jains do not eat meat.

Ramesh: As Jains, we believe that animal life is as good as our own life.

Anil: Just as we don't like getting hurt or killed the animals, birds, and fish also don't like being hurt or killed.

Raju : Oh! That makes sense. I will get the vegetarian burgers for you.

While getting the veggie burger, Raju admires their love and care for all kinds of life.

Anil and Ramesh were happy with what they ate. Jains are very careful of what they eat. They make sure that their food does not contain any meat products, animal fat, fish, seafood, chicken, or eggs in it.
